

Project Titles

LONDON
SCHOOL of HYGIENE
& TROPICAL MEDICINE

Project titles of previous award winners for the last five years are listed below.

Award Year 2018-19

- Patterns of occupational exposure to carbon monoxide and particulate matter and its relationship to respiratory symptoms and lung function among cassava grits processors in the middle belt of Ghana
- The introduction of the Sugary Beverages Levy in South Africa: Exploring policy on the ground in the context of NCDs and HIV
- Contextual and political factors influencing implementation of the Essential Medicines List in Kenya
- Developing effective communication practices among public health workers in fragile states: A mixed-method evaluation of management practices in Liberia's civil service
- Co-circulating arboviruses in Latin America between 2015-2017: Chikungunya virus, Dengue virus & Zika virus
- Myanmar to Thailand labour migration: The social and intermediary networks that influence and facilitate engagement in decent versus exploitative work
- Improving Parental Involvement to support inclusive education for school-based children with disabilities in Northern Malawi
- Exploring Access to Health-Related Rehabilitation Services for Persons with Disabilities in the Maldives
- Infection Surveillance by Telephone Early Postpartum

Award Year 2017-18

- New pharmacokinetic and PK/PD drug development methodologies for cutaneous leishmaniasis
- Understanding the determinants of quality of primary care in Tunisia
- Building resilience and sustainability for Gender-based violence programming in Lebanon's humanitarian crisis response
- Integration of community-based health interventions through the lens of communities & community health workers
- Vaginal Inflammation in Zambian Women with Female Genital Schistosomiasis and its Role in a Model for HIV Acquisition
- Developing a rapid method to assess the prevalence and causes of hearing loss in population-based surveys
- Young people's lived experiences and perceptions of sexual health in Dhaka, Bangladesh
- Adoption and Institutionalisation of Social Innovation in Public Health Systems: Experiences from Malawi and Rwanda

Award Year 2016-17

- The next Ebola: Considering the Role of the Military in Epidemic Response
- How much do fathers matter? Paternal investment and child wellbeing in rural Tanzania
- Assessing attitudes towards methods of long-term care of the elderly in India

- Exploring approaches suitable for the evaluation of social interventions: A process evaluation examining the link between comprehensive sexuality education and the prevention of intimate partner violence in Mexico City
- Mosquito biting behaviour and malaria transmission: interactions between intrinsic host preferences and local environmental conditions
- Streets of Sustenance? Profiling Food Environments in Telangana, India

Award Year 2015-16

- Understanding the need for social protection amongst people with disabilities
- Progressing health equity in political transition: an analysis of the key determinants of health equity policy space and its use in Myanmar 2005-2015
- T Cell responses to Malaria pre-erythrocytic stages: Translating immunoinformatic and murine model data to humans
- Access to and utilisation of integrated mental health services in rural India
- Occupational shifts away from agriculture: A mixed methods approach to understanding its effects on cardiovascular disease risk in India
- Evaluating the effect of population movements on dengue transmission dynamics

Award Year 2014-15

- School Absenteeism in Northern Malawi: Trends, Influences and the Impact of Highly Efficient Cooking Stoves
- The effect of nadir CD4+ T-cell count on Human Papillomavirus (HPV) infection and cervical cancer precursor lesions in women living with HIV in Africa
- The Sustainable Development Goals: Understanding why and how states exert power and influence in global health
- Intervention in Translation: Exploring the localised and contested meanings of opioid pharmacotherapy in Kenya
- Novel targets of naturally acquired immunity to Plasmodium knowlesi
- A study to investigate mycobacterium-specific antibody responses within two Ugandan cohorts
- The social and political factors supporting evidence advisory bodies for health