

Backgrounds of previous students

The course provides an excellent opportunity for participants to establish contacts with individuals who come from different academic backgrounds and many different parts of the world, as illustrated by the following course photos from recent years. Each individual in the photos is shaded according to his or her academic background and region of origin. For example, in the first set of photos, medical doctors are shaded in yellow, vets are in purple, etc.

Academic backgrounds of recent course participants:

Regions of origin of recent course participants:

