Student Market Place 2017
Wednesday 27th September
South Courtyard, 12:00 – 13:45

The Student Market Place introduces you to a range of services offered by the School and external organisations. This provides an informal setting for you to find out more about what the School can do to support you during your studies and beyond.

Alumni

The School has a diverse alumni community, with more than 20,000 alumni in over 180 countries. The alumni team provide alumni with a lifelong link to the School and each other. Members of the School's alumni team will tell you about the services they offer and how you can sign up to be an official volunteer for the School. <http://www.lshtm.ac.uk/alumni/>

Careers

The LSHTM Careers Service provides support to students to help them develop a range of career management skills that they can draw on throughout their working lives. These skills include career planning, job-hunting strategies, CV and application writing, interview skills and networking skills. <http://www.lshtm.ac.uk/careers/>

Catholic Chaplaincy (Newman House)

Newman House is the Catholic Chaplaincy Centre for all Universities in London and also provides student accommodation. The chaplaincy is open to people of all faiths and none and the chaplains are happy to talk with you on any matter in complete confidence. Newman House is based at 111 Gower Street, just a short walk from Keppel Street.

Events and Graduation, Communications and Engagement

The Events and Graduation, Communications and Engagement team manage a varied calendar of events and displays at the School. They also look after School merchandise and the annual graduation ceremonies. For advice about holding events, posters, volunteering, marketing or School merchandise contact events@lshtm.ac.uk.

Health and Safety

The London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine aims to provide a safe and healthy environment for all its staff, students and visitors. The School complies with the requirements of the relevant health & safety at work legislation. The Health and Safety team has a wide remit including accidents and injuries, first aid, fire, laboratory safety. <https://lshtm.sharepoint.com/Services/Safety/>

International Students House

International Students House is a charity dedicated to British and International Students in London. We provide a vibrant student centre based in zone one that is used by thousands of students that attend one of the many Universities that are part of our International Partnership Scheme and over 600 residents that are housed in the affordable accommodation we offer. All of this is possible thanks to the vision of our founder Mary Trevelyan and the acquisition of the house in 1965. <https://ish.org.uk/>

IT Services

The School provides a range of IT services, facilities and benefits to students including a number of computing rooms at Keppel Street and Tavistock Place. You will be able to sign up for an IT induction. <https://lshtm.sharepoint.com/Services/IT-Services/Pages/students.aspx>

Library & Archives Service

The Library & Archives Service is situated on the first floor of the Keppel Street building, where you will find friendly and expert help and space for both quiet and group study/research. Your student ID card acts as your library card and you will need to bring this with you each time you visit. You will be able to sign up for Library Information Skills Sessions held in Weeks 1 and 2.

London International Development Centre (LIDC)

The London International Development Centre (LIDC) facilitates interdisciplinary research and activities to tackle complex problems in international development and create a network of interdisciplinary researchers. We bring together academics and students from across the following University of London colleges: SOAS, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, Royal Veterinary College, UCL Institute of Education, Birkbeck, Queen Mary and City University.

Nightline

Nightlines offer a confidential and anonymous listening support service to students. Nightline volunteers cover the phones throughout the night, when other specialist university welfare services are closed and allow university students to talk about whatever's on their mind. Each individual Nightline is run by students for students at their university. Many Nightlines also offer information and some also offer supplies such as pregnancy tests, condoms and attack alarms. <http://nightline.ac.uk/about-us/the-nightline-association/>

Royal Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene

The Royal Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene has existed since 1907, and has around 950 members from over forty countries. We aim to save lives and improve health around the world through facilitating research, sharing knowledge across disciplines, guiding lifelong careers, and driving impact. Our new 5 year strategy aims to improve our work with our early career professionals around the globe. <https://rstmh.org/>

Study Team

You've met them through emails, online chats and the Facebook group, now come and meet the LSHTM Study Team in person! If you are passionate about the School and want to share your experiences and encourage future students to join us, you can also ask them about becoming a Student Ambassador. This fun and rewarding role includes connecting with prospective students; helping out at Open Day; and contributing to our website, publications and social media.

LSHTM Technology Enhanced Learning

The newly formed LSHTM TEL department brings together technologist expertise from both the E-learning and Distance Learning teams in a common direction toward developing the School's approach to learning and research through the innovative use of technology.
